

Fifa bans Chelsea from signing players for two years

ASSOCIATED PRESS
ZURICH, FEBRUARY 22

CHELSEA was banned by FIFA on Friday from signing players until the 2020 off-season transfer window for breaching rules covering youngsters. The Premier League club has the right to appeal against the sanction, which covers the next two transfer windows — the entire 2019-20 season — and also includes a fine of 600,000 Swiss francs ($600,000). The English Football Association was also fined 510,000 Swiss francs ($510,000) and given six months to “address the situation concerning the international transfer and first registration of minors in football,” FIFA said.

Both the FA and Chelsea announced plans to lodge appeals. The punishment is the latest blow for Chelsea, which has dropped to sixth in the Premier League and was knocked out of the FA Cup by Manchester United on Monday. Russian billionaire owner Roman Abramovich, who has transformed the London club with his wealth since his 2003 takeover, is currently unable to travel to Britain because of visa issues.

FIFA punished Chelsea for breaching rules related to the signing of 29 players under the age of 18. International transfers involving players under 18 are prohibited unless their families had already moved to the new country for non-soccer reasons.

There is an exception for clubs within the European Union and European Economic Community, which allows the transfer of 16- to 18-year-old players provided conditions are met on education and living conditions. It was first reported three years ago that Burkina Faso attacker Bertrand Traore played for Chelsea’s under-18 team in 2011 while still 16. Traore now plays for Lyon.

FIFA did not detail the specifics of the case against Chelsea, but it said the club also entered into agreements which “allowed it to influence other clubs in transfer-related matters.” Chelsea said it was initially charged over 92 players but no breach was found by FIFA in relation to 63 of them. “The club is extremely disappointed that FIFA has not accepted the club’s submissions in relation to the remaining 29 players,” Chelsea said in a statement. “Chelsea FC acted in accordance with the relevant regulations and will shortly be submitting its appeal to FIFA.”

“We will, however, continue to work with FIFA and Chelsea in a constructive manner to address the issues which are raised by this case,” the FA said in a statement. Both the FA and Chelsea could ultimately challenge any FIFA appeal ruling at the Court of Arbitration for Sport. When Real Madrid received a similar ban in 2016, the sanction was reduced to one transfer window by CAS. But Atletico Madrid failed to cut its punishment covering two transfer windows.

Chelsea already finalized one transfer knowing the FIFA verdict was pending. Christian Pulisic was signed for 64 million euros ($73 million) in January and the 20-year-old winger was loaned to Borussia Dortmund for the rest of this season. The German club didn’t have to pay a fee.

The transfer ban does not prevent Chelsea from selling players. Winger Eden Hazard, who has been linked with a move to Real Madrid, has indicated he could look for a transfer at the end of season but he is under contract at Stamford Bridge until the end of the 2019-20 season.

Liverpool face rejuvenated United

FEBRUARY 22

MANCHESTER UNITED’S strong domestic form in recent weeks has ensured they are no longer ‘underdogs’ when they take on arch-rivals Liverpool in Sunday’s Premier League clash, caretaker manager Ole Gunnar Solskjaer has said.

Liverpool handed United a 3-1 defeat in their last meeting at Anfield in December, which led to former manager Jose Mourinho’s dismissal and Solskjaer’s appointment. Solskjaer has since turned United’s bleak season around with 11 wins in last 13 games in all competitions, losing just once to Paris St Germain in their Champions League last-16 tie. “Suddenly we are not underdogs any more, suddenly people praise us, they think now is the time to play them,” Solskjaer told reporters. “We have to perform better than we did against PSG. We have got to learn from that experience. It’s a big game, a big team. It’s not about emotions. I understand that emotion can be brought into it, but we have to stay focused and controlled, but with some fight in us as well.” Solskjaer said the injured pair of Anthony Martial and Jesse Lingard would be assessed over the next two days before he takes a call on their participation, with the Norwegian hopeful Martial would make the squad.

“I hope Jesse will be OK, I hope and think Anthony will be OK,” Solskjaer added. “But we have two more days, they have to get through these two sessions. They have not been part of it yet but they have been doing some recovery work. Anthony’s was a different muscle so we think that he might be ready and hope that Jesse will.”

Pressure is part and parcel of playing for a team with title ambitions and Liverpool must embrace it as they pursue a first league crown in almost 30 years, forward Mohamed Salah has said. “I said in November that there is pressure and it will be there until the end of the season, because when you play for the Premier League you have to accept that there is pressure,” Salah said.

“When you go home you can take it with you, but it can help you to work harder and focus on your game. At the end of the day you have a target in your mind, you have a dream, you want to win the Premier League. I even said that two years ago when I came – it is a dream to win the Premier League.”

After two straight draws against Leicester City and West Ham United, a 3-0 victory over Bournemouth last time out eased supporters’ fears that Liverpool were starting to crumble under the strain.

AEK handed suspended ban by UEFA

Amsterdam: AEK Athens have been hit with a suspended ban from European competition by UEFA over the crowd trouble that marred their Champions League Group E match in Athens in November. The Greek club has also been ordered to play its next two UEFA competition home games behind closed doors and fined 80,000 euros ($90,600). Riot police clashed with Ajax Amsterdam fans in the Olympic Stadium before the match and some supporters had blood pouring down their faces, while flares were also thrown inside the stadium. On Friday, UEFA said in a statement that it had decided to “exclude AEK Athens FC from participating in the next UEFA club competition for which it will otherwise qualify.” “This sanction is suspended for a probationary period of two years,” the governing body added. REUTERS
